

Stuck on You

IN CASE OF AN EMERGENCY
PLEASE CALL:

I'm a Nut Free Kid!

Stick With

SPEAKING FOR THEM

Sending food allergic kids out into the world becomes a bit less daunting with the help of eye-catching tags. Affixed to items from clothes to lunch boxes to pencil cases, these labels will ensure that Emily's dairy-free meal isn't eaten by Madison by mistake, and that Ethan's jacket doesn't end up at Jake's peanut-eating household.

STUCK ON YOU – these brightly coloured, hard-wearing vinyl stickers can be used to brand every sippy cup, reusable food container and notebook in sight. Personalized or standard "nut-," "egg-" and "dairy-free zone" labels come in small, big and jumbo sizes. ($19.50 to $20.95/pack) www.stuckonyou.biz

BLUE BEAR AWARE – known for its great allergy alert T-shirts, the company also offers embroidered sew- or iron-on badges that can be put on backpacks, jackets and more. ($5 each) www.bluebearaware.com

MABEL'S LABELS – super sticky labels withstand the dishwasher, microwave and, yes, even a toddler. List up to six allergens on each 69 mm x 26 mm (2 3/4" x 1") label. ($18.50/20 labels). www.mabel.ca –D.C.

